

Auction date Saturday 21st January

As we now have ourselves a new club auction secretary, please allow me a moment to say how much I have enjoyed my stint as one of several volunteer guest auctioneers. I must admit to having enjoyed doing these, slightly more than, occasional auction lists for several reasons. I have heard from, and made friends with, members I might not otherwise have got to know; I have certainly enjoyed, and learned greatly from, handling so much china; and likewise, from looking up and writing about some of the models and decorations. But it has also been an eye-opener as to what Ted Bond (for newer members, he was club auction secretary for over 25 years) used to do, each month, on behalf of the club. He really did “live” Goss. You couldn’t do the auction every month otherwise. And lastly, thank you to all those people who have supported the auction, whether as bidders or sellers.

As it is my last auction, I tried to get as much done from my “in tray” as I could, so it is a rather larger than usual auction – still, lots to spend your Christmas present money on! There is a noticeable grouping of Goss matching arms on Historic models, and a particular fine selection of crested china Yorkshire arms.

As a special offer for my last auction, I am offering free 2nd class signed for P&P on (1) bids on 5 or more lots, irrespective of how many are won or the total value, and (2) on total bids of more than £50. The offer excludes special delivery, but if (1) or (2) applies then special delivery will be half price.

Lastly, as this is my last auction, all unsold items will be removed from my home within one week of the auction ending. Therefore, I am open to offers, any offer (no offer will offend, and it costs nothing to ask!) If you are interested and want to book a call on the Saturday evening, after the auction ends, let me know with your bids. It will be strictly on a first come basis.

The usual requests continue eg., that all bids be accompanied by your full contact details. Bids should be with me by 12 noon on the Saturday 21st January. All email bids will be acknowledged (no acknowledgement = no bid received!) All postage is 2nd class signed for (either small or medium parcel at £4.45 or £6.45). Values over £100 will be special delivery at cost.

Thank you, and good luck with your bids.
Nigel Griffin
